Legacy Optical Noir Strategy Brief

Legacy Optical Noir Strategy Brief

Stage: strategyresearch

Client: Legacy

Run: Weekend social launch package

Owner: ForgeGraph / Atlas agency pipeline

Strategic Direction

Legacy Optical Noir should launch as a sharp, premium weekend social moment built around contrast, restraint, and product desirability. The campaign should feel editorial and cinematic, with sunglasses presented as the hero object in dark, polished, high-intent environments.

The run must be strategy-led before asset production. Creative, channel, CRM, analytics, QA, delivery, and evidence capture should all trace back to this brief.

Campaign Objective

Create a weekend-ready social launch package that positions Legacy Optical Noir as a confident, style-forward eyewear drop and gives the client a complete delivery bundle suitable for immediate review, approval, and deployment.

Core Message

Legacy Optical Noir is eyewear for a sharper weekend: polished, minimal, cinematic, and built around presence without excess.

Audience

Primary audience: style-conscious adults interested in premium accessories, nightlife, weekend outings, fashion-forward essentials, and elevated everyday presentation.

Secondary audience: gift buyers and brand-aware shoppers looking for a distinctive sunglasses product with a refined visual identity.

Creative Principles

- Sunglasses must be the clear visual subject.
- No text inside generated imagery.

- No logos inside generated imagery.
- No people inside generated imagery.
- Visual mood: noir, glossy, editorial, premium, restrained.
- Avoid clutter, novelty props, fake brand marks, or lifestyle scenes that distract from the product.
- Assets should work across social posts, story crops, and HTML/PDF presentation packaging.

Department Pipeline

- Strategy Research
 - Define campaign objective, audience, positioning, visual rules, channel needs, and approval constraints.
- Brand
 - Translate Optical Noir into a visual system: dark neutrals, high contrast, glass reflections, polished surfaces, minimal copy.
- Channel
 - Prepare weekend-ready social concepts for feed, story, and lightweight promotional use.
- CRM
 - Create concise supporting copy for client-owned follow-up, launch reminders, and approval notes.
- Media Production
 - Use a Codex-backed media worker to generate fresh sunglasses assets only.
 - Required constraints: no text, no logo, no people.
 - Output should be clean PNG-ready visuals suitable for packaging.
- Analytics
 - Define tracking expectations, content naming, campaign evidence, and post-launch reporting fields.
- QA
 - Validate asset constraints, package contents, file integrity, client-readiness, and delivery rules.
- Client Approval
 - Package final materials into the approved client ZIP format.
 - Deliver only through the approved WhatsApp route.

Asset Requirements

Generated media must show premium sunglasses in Optical Noir-inspired settings. Recommended visual directions:

- Sunglasses on smoked glass with soft directional light.
- Close product detail on dark satin or lacquer surface.
- Minimal luxury still life with chrome, shadow, and neutral highlights.
- High-contrast editorial product composition for social feed crop.

Do not include typography, watermarks, logos, faces, hands, models, mannequins, or branded packaging in generated visuals.
